PROPOSE TAX TO CATCH ALL FILING RETURNS

Par Would Affect Those Who Avoid Paying Because of Deductions.

WASHINGTON, May 14—Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau today announced a minimum tax on every taxpayer who files an income tax return.

Under existing laws, millions of people whose personal exemptions and other deductions exceed their income pay no tax at all, even though they have to file returns.

Morgenthau said his experts were studying the constitutional question of such a "proposed" tax, and if they found it constitutional, he would ask Congress to enact it.

Mr. Randolph Paul, top treasury tax expert, sent word to the press that there was "no question" that such a "proposed" tax would be constitutional.

Paul said questions of legality could be avoided by calling the special minimum tax an "excise" instead of an "income" tax.

Mr. Paul pointed out that a similar tax has been proposed by Senator George (D-Ga.), chairman of the senate finance committee, who calls it an "examination fee" because it would reimburse the treasury for the expense of examining otherwise non-taxable returns.

At a press conference in which he revealed the proposal, Morgenthau suggested $5 as a suitable minimum, and estimated that the treasury could collect $100,000,000 a year through this method.

"That's a tidy sum and we can use it," he commented.

On Capitol Hill strong behind-the-scenes administration pressure was reported against a general sales tax, and ways and means committees who previously had indicated sympathy for such a levy were reported changing over.

One informal poll showed that a one-substantial majority for either a retail or manufacturers' sales tax had disappeared and that the present lineup was 13 to 12 against such a levy.

Trend Indicated

The trend away from a sales tax was emphasized yesterday when the committee decided tentatively to cut the present $7500 personal income tax exemption to $5000 and the $1,500 exemption for married couples to $1,000. Under this plan a single man could pay as little as $10 a week would have to file a tax report.

Members said that such a big dip into the ranks of low-income workers who formerly were tax-exempt probably would preclude the possibility of a sales tax.

Nevertheless, sales tax proposals said that the committee apparently would end up far short of the administration's $8,700,000,000 goal and would face the alternatives of resorting to such a tax to bring current with what one member said would be "a half-way tax bill."

Having decided on the exemption levels, the committee went to work today on normal and surtax rates but there was no indication what the ultimate tax bill of the average citizen would be. It was presumed that the new rates would be somewhat higher, even with the wider base taken into consideration.

CCC CAMP MAY BE USED TO HOUSE WAR WORKERS

Scioto Ordnance Plant Officials Study Use of Dormitories.

The possibility of using the Marion County CCC camp east of the city as a dormitory center for Scioto Ordnance Plant construction workers is being considered today by Ordnance plant officials.

The camp is to be closed by the end of this month so far as CCC activities for the present are concerned.

Although the camp has a rated capacity of around 225 CCC boys, it is believed the buildings could be used to provide housing for a still larger number if used only for dormitory purposes. Some estimates of the possible capacity have ranged as high as 500.

WAR MOTHER PLAN

A nursery plan, setting up 500 to 600 day nurseries to care for children of war industry mothers, is in the making. The nationwide plan is the idea of the "Bundles for America" organization, headed by Mrs. Wales Latham of New York. Nine nurseries already have been established in the east.

CANTEEN WORK IN FOURTH DAY

Soldiers Enroute Praise Marion Women's Service at Union Station.

Marion's service canteen at the Union station, opened Monday, already has given popcorn, candy bars, cigarettes, apples and oranges to more than 100 service men.

No troop trains have passed through during the hours the canteen is open, 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. The men served so far have been traveling on regular trains.

When trains pull into the station, the canteen workers go out on the platform with large baskets decorated in red, white and blue. Any man in uniform who gets off the trains receives free any of the items he selects from the baskets.

Popcorn has been one of the favorite items, according to Mrs. Eugene Willey, head of the canteen, who said the men are "thrilled" to find a free canteen along the route of their journey to or from points of service.

Queries among the men have showed they are not interested in sandwiches, but prefer "knicksnacks" they can put in their pockets and eat on the train. They have said they are well fed and that it is cigarettes, fruits and cigars they appreciate.

They also have asked for pictorial magazines and playing cards, which the canteen does not have. Anyone in Marion who has magazines or playing cards and who would like to help brighten the trips of the service men may leave them at the canteen.

The canteen is being financed by individuals and the civilian defense council. Mrs. Willey said, and contributions from individuals will be welcomed throughout the duration of the war.

EVACUATION PLANS MAPPED FOR OHIO

Nine Cities in Target Area Work on Details.

COLUMBUS, O., May 14—The state defense council today mapped plans for evacuation of civilians from Ohio's nine "target areas" in event of an enemy bombing attack.

Majorities of the target zones—Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus, Akron, Dayton, Toledo, Youngstown, Canton and Springfield—voted at a meeting of the state evacuation committee yesterday to assign emergency planning to the defense council.

Courtesy Burton, the council's executive director, said the study already was under way and that the principal problems were what persons to evacuate, the number from each city and where they should be taken.

Adjacent areas would be used wherever possible, he declared, and families willing to house one or more evacuees will be listed.

Col. Lynn Black, superintendent of the state highway patrol, suggested fingerprinting of all children before schools close for the summer to avert repetition of the English experience in which hundreds of youngsters became lost during air raids and were unable to identify themselves later.

FINAL BOND PLEDGE WORK PROGRESSING

Clean-up Reports Awaited by Precinct Chairmen.

The task of winding up the Marion city and county war bond pledge drive progressed today as precinct chairmen made final checks among their workers.

Reports of completed work were coming in rapidly this morning from the precinct heads, according to Harold J. Grigsby, president of the Kiwanis club which is supervising the drive.

Meanwhile reports were awaited of results from a published form printed last night in an effort to reach those families that were not contacted in the canvass.

Any family not contacted was asked to sign the form and place it in the milk bottle this morning. The forms were to be picked up by the milk men and turned over to the drive supervising organization, which would assign a worker to go to the home and get the family's pledge.

The canvass in the county has been nearly completed and most of the workers' books have been returned for tabulation by the county war bond and stamp staff.

CITY HOSPITAL PROJECT BEFORE FEDERAL BUREAU

Action Awaited on Result of Survey.

Mayor Russell C. Snare said today he has been informed requests for surveys, priorities, etc., for the city hospital addition have been referred to the United States department of health for approval.

He said it has been revealed the government sent officials here in March to survey the hospital and ascertain the needs in the light of the additional burden imposed by the Scioto Ordnance Plant.

Initial steps in the construction of the new addition are being delayed only long enough to secure proper authority and priority, he said.

Tunnel 30 Feet Below Ground To Be Blasted Through Rock for War Plant Sewer Project

Professional "Underground" Crew Begins 1,500-Foot Project Starting on Church Street Near Forest.

A crew of workmen yesterday started work on an East Side sewer project that will involve approximately 1,500 feet of tunneling through solid rock at a depth of about 30 feet.

It's part of the sewer project that will connect the Scioto Ordnance Plant buildings with the city sewer system, and the work is being done by the Hunkin-Conkey Construction Co., builders of the Scioto Ordnance Plant.

It will serve the dual purpose of providing a link in the sewer line to the Ordnance plant and relieving a sewer problem that grew out of inadequate drainage for a sizeable area in the East Side. The city's benefit will result from the fact that the Center street sewer will be connected to the 24-inch main that now ends on Church street near Forest street.

Tunneling work is being done on the project so the sewer will be deep enough for use by the city as well as for the Scioto Ordnance Plant. Otherwise a shallow sewer not requiring any blasting would have been built, Ordnance plant officials said.

In yesterday's work, a crew under direction of George Carnahan, an assistant to James Bartholomew, general superintendent for the Hunkin-Conkey Construction Co., opened shafts 10 feet square on Church street and a short distance east of Summit street and on Center street near Charles street. The shaft on Center street was pushed down 10 feet and at that level workers struck rock. It was expected rock would be encountered at about the same depth on Church street.

Must Do Blasting

From there on down to the 30-foot depth planned for the shafts, blasting will be necessary.

The tunnels will be about six feet high and four feet wide. Compressed air "drifter drills" will be used to open holes for dynamite charges, and the rock blasted loose by the dynamite will be placed on flaccars to be operated over a 24-inch gauge track to be laid along the tunnel. It will be hauled to one of the shafts on the flaccars, hoisted to street level by a crane and dumped into trucks.

Two drillers will work side by side in each shaft, opening holes for the dynamite charges.

Blasting is expected to be started Friday. The work is scheduled to proceed 24 hours a day. When the job gets into full swing, it is expected 35 men will be employed on a shift.

Location of Shafts

Two of the shafts will be on Church street, two on Center street. The 1,500-foot line will extend on Church street from the first alley west of Forest street to the first alley east of Summit street, go northward through that alley to Center street and east on Center street to Jefferson street.

After the tunnel has been opened, a 24-inch vitrified sewer line will be laid in it. When this has been completed, the backfill will be blown into the tunnel from the surface, thus completing the job.

When the job is finished, the shafts will be only partially filled and will be replaced by manholes.

Skilled Workers Required

Tunneling requires workmen with special skills, and the crew being assembled for the project come from various parts of the country. Mr. Carnahan is a veteran director of underground projects, one of his recent positions having been superintendent in charge of the Siding Hill tunnel longest tunnel in the turnpike. This 6,600-foot project was the longest tunnel in the turnpike group, and in connection with that job supervised the work of 1,500 men.

He was in charge of even a larger project at the Ravenna Ordnance Works before coming to the Scioto Ordnance Plant where he is helping direct part of the construction work, along with the sewer job.

Before the Pennsylvania turnpike job he spent 15 years on subway work in New York City and also was a shift engineer on the Holland tunnel. He is a native of Belleaire, O.

Another veteran underground worker on the Marion project is William Fowler, a lifelong driller and a native of England. He has worked on scores of projects in this country since coming from England in 1906.

Special Equipment

The tunnels, during the excavation period, will carry compressed air lines to operate the drills, water lines to keep the rock damp and prevent dust from affecting the workers, and also will be equipped with forced ventilation to provide plenty of fresh air for workers and to carry away the fumes from dynamiting.

The compressed air drills will be mounted on arms supported by a column that will be installed in the tunnel at the point where the men are working. This column will be easily movable and will be moved along as the work progresses.

Construction officials said every effort will be made to avoid inconveniencing residents of the neighborhood while the project is under way. Temporary buildings used on the project are being located in such a manner that residents of the neighborhood still have access to their garages. (The shafts are located in the streets but are off to one side enough that traffic can be maintained.)

The project recalls the difficulty experienced in laying the original main line sewer to which the new one will be connected. T. S. Cathers, city engineer, said the original sewer, built about 18 years ago, involved considerable tunneling and open ditch blasting to get the line deep enough. The present line, which will be joined with the new one on Church street at the first alley west of Forest street, travels south and west to the sewage treatment plant.

Plant Line Connection

When the new project is completed and connected to the present line on Church street, its other terminus will be on Center street at Jefferson street. It is at this point that the Scioto Ordnance Plant sewer line, which is expected to be shallow compared with the main lines, will be connected. It is planned to use pumps to force the sewage from the plant down as far as Jefferson and Center streets. From that point it will drain away by gravity.

The vitrified sewer pipe to be used is of the same type used in the existing sewer. It is made of shale ground into a compound that is molded, partially dried and then kiln treated for approximately a week. During this period it is subjected to intense heat and virtually "melts together" to form a durable, long-life pipe.

NEW JAPANESE ASSAULT SEEN

Observers Say They Must Try Again in Order to Save Face.

WASHINGTON, May 14—American military experts, intrigued by Tokyo's solemn but hollow claims of a resounding Coral sea victory, concluded today that such boasts could only drive the Japanese admirals to a grand-scale assault on the approaches to Australia in an effort to save face.

These claims have become so extravagant in the last few days, it was said, that the Japanese may be compelled to try to make good on them soon by a new foray in tremendous force. Hence authorities believe another big battle is in the making—a battle in which the enemy might throw in some of his heaviest fleet units.

Other elements in the present strategic situation also impel the Japanese toward a large-scale naval attack. One is that the enemy's fleet strength has not been vitally impaired by the Coral sea engagement, disastrous as it was.

Japs Must Follow Up

If Admiral Yamamoto wants to cut the supply line to Australia, therefore, he has to call up reinforcements and try again in the same theater, in some other area leading to the continent or else.

BAILIFF RESIGNS, SUCCESSOR NAMED

Robert A. Kelly's Position Is Taken by C. F. Haberman.

Robert A. Kelly, of 275 Clover avenue, common pleas court bailiff, will resign tomorrow and Carl F. Haberman, of 837 David street, will take over the position.

Mr. Kelly will be associated with W. P. and Bernard C. Moloney in their law offices at 1324 East Center street. He has been court bailiff since 1938, when he resigned his position as athletic director at St. Mary High school.

He taught history and American government at St. Mary during the four years he was there. He is an alumnus of Ohio State university and the University of Dayton. He passed the bar examination in 1938.

Mr. Haberman served as clerk of courts in 1933-34 and again from January 1937 to January 1941. He has been field representative for the Producer's Livestock Credit association for a little more than a year.

As bailiff, he will work under the direction of Common Pleas Judge Hector S. Young.

DIARRHAE STRICKEN

CINCINNATI, O., May 14—Bill four years, Campbell J. McDiarmid, former president of the Cincinnati Reds baseball club, died yesterday at the age of 75. He once was a director of the St. Louis Browns.

HOTEL WORKERS STRIKE

CLEVELAND, May 14—Services at the nine-story Lake Shore hotel were at a standstill today due to a strike of the AFL Hotel Service Workers union in protest over the discharge of a waiter.

SOVIET TROOPS ROLLING ALONG ENTIRE FRONT

Sectors Before Leningrad and Moscow Also See Start of Action.

By The Associated Press

Russia declared today that her armies were storming at the gates of Kharkov, the "Pittsburgh" of the Ukraine, and other Soviet offensives were reported rolling against the Germans in the vital sectors of Leningrad, Novgorod, Staraya Russa and Moscow.

In the Crimea, the Russians acknowledged yielding some ground in the six-day-old battle of Kerch peninsula, but disputed the Hitler high command's claim of decisive victory.

Latest Soviet dispatches said the Russians were now holding a new line in good order, inflicting heavy casualties on the Germans.

The Soviet radio reported that Marshal Semion Timoshenko's Ukraine armies had smashed the German first-line defenses before Kharkov and were advancing on the city itself, imminently threatening the key Nazi stronghold.

All winter, Kharkov has been a major obstacle in the path of Soviet counter-drives.

The Russians said masses of Red army reserves had gone into action for the first time against Kharkov, and declared:

"Everything is being abandoned by the Germans in great quantities on the field of action."

Action in North

Simultaneously, a Vichy (French) broadcast said the Russians had launched "massive air attacks" paced by violent aerial bombing against the German armies at Staraya Russa and Novgorod, about 120 miles south of Leningrad.

Heavy fighting was also reported raging on the Leningrad front, where the Germans were said to have thrown new six-inch anti-tank guns into action in a vain attempt to stop the monster Soviet "Voroshilov" tanks.

On the basis of all these reports, it appeared that the whole 1,200-mile battlefield from Leningrad to the Black sea was ablaze in a series of gigantic battles which may decide the war in Europe.

"The days of fierce new battles are beginning," said the Soviet army newspaper, Red Star.

Red Star said the Germans had massed a considerable number of tanks and planes and might win temporary successes in some sectors, but declared that "the most critical days are far behind."

Adolf Hitler's field headquarters asserted that German troops in the Crimea had won a smashing victory on the Kerch peninsula and were now relentlessly pursuing the "defeated" Russian army.

The Nazi command said German bombers were pounding the port of Kerch and blasting Soviet ships in the adjacent waters.

Still Hold Kerch

(This indicated that the Russians still held Kerch.)

The Swiss radio quoted the Rumanian high command as saying that German and Rumanian troops had captured Kerch City and Takli, thus reaching the gateway to the great Caucasus oil fields.

Kerch lies across a narrow strait from the Caucasus.

The Vichy (French) news agency also reported that axis troops

Zurek, clerk for the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad.

FINES ORDERED IN MORE RAID CASES

One Awaiting Monday Hearing on Bond of $1,000.

Case of Lawrence (Red) Dornier, 35, of 486 Ballentine avenue, whose hearing was set for today after he pleaded not guilty in municipal court Monday to charges of possession and sale of liquor without a permit, and "keeping an illegal place of sale," was continued until Monday by Municipal Judge W. D. Hazen. Dornier has posted $1,000 bond for his appearance in court.

He was arrested early Sunday morning in a series of raids launched by liquor agents and city police.

Others arrested at his residence, who later entered pleas of not guilty to charges of disorderly conduct, pleaded guilty in Judge Hazen's court today and were fined. Thomas Malloy of 124 West Walnut street, who received by far the heaviest penalty, was fined $100, of which $75 was later suspended by Judge Hazen.

RUSSIANS OPEN DRIVE AGAINST STEEL CENTER

Full Scale Offensive on Kharkov Progresses, but Nazis Gain on Kerch.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, May 14—The Red army reported today that it was smashing at the very gates of Kharkov, important industrial center of the Ukraine, in a full-scale spring offensive coinciding with German preoccupation on the Kerch peninsula 300 miles to the south, where the Russians admitted giving some ground.

The attack on Kharkov, which the Russians said already has smashed through the first line of German defenses, and was hammering at the second, is no mere diversionary action to lessen enemy pressure on Kerch but is the real thing, all Soviet accounts emphasized. Although it may have that secondary effect, it has been long and carefully prepared.

Masses of reserves who have been training just behind the front have gone into action for the first time, and assembled tanks and artillery are striking at the Germans after a pre-attack bombardment of Nazi airbases in the southwest zone, the Russians said.

The broad drive across the Ukrainian plains, overshadowed by the German advance in the narrow Kerch peninsula and a new, vigorous Russian campaign in the north for the further relief of besieged Leningrad.

Airacobra and Tomahawk planes from the United States, Hurricanes from Britain, and both American and British-made tanks are playing big roles in the Kharkov and Leningrad offensives.

Shipment of American supplies has lately increased in volume, and British materials have been going to Russia throughout the winter.

Heavy Losses for Nazis

"The Germans are sustaining heavy losses in men and materials," declared Red Star, official army paper, in discussing the Kharkov offensive. "Everything is being abandoned by the Germans in great quantities on the field of action."

The Soviet dispatches said Marshal Semion Timoshenko's offensive thus appeared to have surprised the Germans who have held Kharkov since last October, and not only forestalled a major German assault but to have laid the foundation for freeing Kharkov. All winter, the city has been a major obstacle in the path of the general Soviet counter-drives.

While admitting a German breakthrough into Russian defenses on Kerch, the Russians said they now were holding a new line in good order and were taking a heavy toll of the attackers.

The army newspaper, Red Star announced the breakthrough against Kharkov, the Donets basin in "Pittsburgh" which the Germans had held since last Oct. 25, saying a number of basic defense fortifications were captured.

(From Berlin came word that the German high command that its Donets front troops were resisting strongly, tank-supported Russian invaders—line troops and hastily concentrated reserves alike—were declared to have been thrown "far back" in an action of considerable depth. Launching of the Soviet drive was first reported, officially only yesterday.

Report Fierce Fighting

The Soviet information bureau said at mid-day that fierce fighting had raged overnight between Russian and German-Rumanian troops on the Kerch peninsula, where the axis seeks to clear a potential springboard to the Caucasus.

(The Rumanian high command was quoted in a roundabout report relayed by the Swiss radio as saying the invasion forces of General Fritz Erich von Manstein had thrust to the tip of the Kerch peninsula and occupied the ports of Kerch and Takli, and almost all of the Kerch Strait coastline.

(This found no confirmation from Berlin. The German high command said that pursuit of the Russians continued; that "the port of Kerch and shipping concentrations in these waters were successfully bombed.")

There was widespread action in the north, across the Kalinin, Ruman and German frontiers, northwestern and Leningrad fronts.

(The Vichy radio reported that the Russians had launched "massive attacks" against German positions at Staraya Russa and Novgorod, respectively south and north of Lake Ilmen.)

"The days of fierce new battles are beginning," said a Red Star editorial. "The Red Army is entering the battles full of

PROLIFIC PORKER

Sow Near Edison Produces Two Litters in Two Weeks.

There'll be no pork rationing program in the United States this year if sows throughout the country join an all-out program started Monday by a sow on the J. L. Benedict farm on the Cardington-Denmark road, three miles west of Edison.

Monday the sow gave birth to its second litter of pigs in less than two weeks. The first litter contained six, and Monday morning's litter seven. All but one of the pigs are still alive. Mr. Benedict reported yesterday. One was killed when the mother laid on it during a feeding period.

He said it is the first time he has ever heard of a sow producing two litters within two weeks. One local veterinarian said a similar case occurred in Marion county several years ago when a sow had one pig and a week later delivered seven more.

Officials Consider Trailer Camp Rules

Dr. Weinbaum, city health commissioner, Clyde Caldwell, safety-service director and Mayor Russell C. Snare met yesterday afternoon to discuss possible changes in the trailer camp ordinance.

Their meeting followed requests submitted to city council Monday night by trailer camp residents who objected to the tax fees established in the trailer camp ordinance. They urged council to consider changing the ordinance immediately.

Mayor Snare said no definite action on the problem has yet been taken.

RAILROADERS GIVE FUND FOR BOMBER

Marion N.Y. Central Employees Among Contributors.

Free-will contributions by employees throughout the New York Central railroad system to purchase a bomber for one of the arms of the air force totaling $170,000, according to a letter sent to the president and employees of the system by Robert P. Patterson, under secretary of war. A copy of the letter has been received at the railway office in Marion where the company's 33 local employees contributed to the fund. The bomber has been designated as the gift of the employees of the New York Central Railroad.

Following is Mr. Patterson's letter to the employees of the New York Central Railroad: "I wish to express to the employees of the New York Central Railroad my deep appreciation of the patriotism and spirit of sacrifice which is expressed in a most gratifyingly practical form by the check for $170,000 which has just been turned over to the war department for delivery to the treasury of the United States. It is a happy coincidence that this check reached Washington at a moment when the freedom loving world was and still is rekindling in the progress of American aviation beyond the seas.

"The funds which the New York Central employees have contributed are sufficient to cover the cost of yet another bomber. The free-will offering of these funds, the gift of 130,000 loyal Americans, is heartening evidence of our country's determination to see this war through to victory."

Some Marion employees contributed a day's pay, other contributed as generously as it was financially possible, according to J. B. Ellis, freight agent.

Illness Is Fatal To Wyandot County Girl

UPPER SANDUSKY, May 14—Funeral will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at the Methodist church in Milford township for Geraldine Clark, ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Clark of Milford township.

Her death Tuesday afternoon resulted from carcinoma of the bone. She had been ill for the past five months following the amputation of her leg above the knee. An injury suffered while

The Stars Say—

For Friday, May 15 BIG BUSINESS in which artifice, subtlety and finesse play prominent roles, is the predominant factor in the day's endeavor. Much of major importance, in connection with large corporations, diplomatic, political or possibly secret societies, may combine to stimulate a decisive effort to the attainment of high ambitions, whether these be in the financial, industrial or political realm. There should be expansion, growth, fine production, prestige and popularity. Conscious success and satisfaction may be attained by fast moves, ingenuity and innovation.

Those whose birthday it is may be on the threshold of a year of exceptional promise for the attainment of high aims and objectives, in whatever direction such aspirations may tend in connection with large or secret institutions, where subtlety and strategy obtain, novel and bold ideas, originality, ingenuity and skill, with quick moves and direct action, may land with telling force on major projects, if sustained by sound constructive effort, high purpose and indomitable determination. Personality, influence and social prestige also have their part in this happiness.

A child born on this day may be endowed with many factors for spectacular success and achievement in many avenues of human endeavor and aspiration. It may be shrewd and subtle, original, adventurous, also sound and practical despite whimsicalities.

Industry Finds Substitutes for War Materials Better Than Originals

NEW YORK—Skin milk felt hats for papa, cotton girdles for mama, and vegetable quilts to warm the family—these are some of American industry's answers to the problems of supply posed by wartime priorities.

They were among products displayed by leading firms here to prove that manufacturing genius could provide substitute articles of equal or better quality than those formerly made of materials now diverted to wartime needs.

The display was convincing evidence that the average citizen will still be able to buy household gadgets and little luxuries he thought he would have to do without when current supplies were exhausted.

To replace rationed rubber, metal and other war-scarce materials, industry has plumbed the resources of forest, farm and chemical laboratory.

For example, Little Jimmy may now anticipate repairing his roller skates with plastic wheels that wear longer and make less noise than steel ones.

And mistress Mary will find her dolls cuddle just as cozily, filled with milkweed instead of kapok.

Musicians who used to boast about their specially imported record for their clarinets (a South Pacific product), can now "go out of the world" with a home-made plastic lip piece.

Comforters of sufficient warmth to withstand the wintry night are now made from plain garden variety vegetables. The technical name for the filling is cellulose, but it's still just a vegetable etc., spring.

Pillows, like Mary's dolls, are softer when they contain milkweed silk instead of wool matter.

And, incidentally, the U. S. navy is using some life preservers filled with this same milkweed silk instead of kapok.

Drapes, curtains and even dress materials are being made of soy beans, skim milk cloth, fiberglass, and rayon. Tough, new products such as belts and synthetic leather goods are produced from a resin derived from coal, lime and salt.

Plastic trim, available in every color of the rainbow, and not touched by war priorities, will substitute for chromium and other polished surfaces.

Cooking wear of glass and earth are being demonstrated as flame proof and oven proof. But the old cast-iron skillet and roaster are coming back into their own to take the place of aluminum.

Chairs and tables of glass with substitute cloth coverings lend a modern touch. Coffee-makers of glass are also popular. So are glass knives and forks, advertised as shatterproof, stainless, tasteless and odorless, long colorful and appetizing capable of tackling a tough steak.

Carpet sweepers, coat hangers and ashtrays reveal the handiwork of the cabinet maker's art—no steel or other metal parts.

The manufacturers have gone as far as to develop tin poppers and gears from impregnated plastics, which won't corrode.

And for hard-worked government officials, one manufacturer has created the "victory fan" with plastic blade, cotton insulation and silver wiring. For every 1,000 fans delivered three tons of aluminum, steel, brass, copper, zinc and rubber are saved.

KANSAS CITY—The war dad figured it was time to do something besides cheer his son.

So a new organization—the American War Dads—was born in Kansas City to assure the armed forces that dad is going all out for them at home.

Nat Milgram, grocery store executive, came home with the idea from a visit with his six foot, six inch son, Lester, at Camp Lee, Va.

Papa Milgram just had seen the soldiers there contribute on a 100 per cent scale $1.25 each of their $21 a month pay for war bonds.

"When I saw those boys do that, knowing they didn't have much left over after odds and ends are taken care of, I made up my mind fathers can give the boys some encouragement they aren't getting from any one else."

The organization is a non-profit, cooperative group.

Among things the members intend to do "as soon as we spread out to other towns of the nation," says Milgram, is to see that a man in uniform gets complimentary tickets to sports events, and "invitations to play on golf courses."

The only qualification for membership is to have a son or foster son in the armed forces.

Some of the things the group plans:

To fight subversive activities, to initiate letter-writing campaigns to the service men; to maintain clubs where the uniformed man can find recreation and cigars at cost and to prepare gift packages for service men.

One thing Milgram said the organization definitely is going to do is to see that inductees get a rousing send-off to camp.

"These boys are leaving too quietly to suit me, and when they get to camp they don't get enough mail."

"The most pathetic figure in any camp or on board ship is the crestfallen lad who fails to hear his name called when the mail is distributed."

Gas Warfare

GAS warfare, as far as its possibilities have been demonstrated, is approximately 75 per cent nervous and 25 per cent physical.
That is, in fact, the principal reason for assuming the Germans will resort to it. They have shown themselves to the specialists in terror.
If they use gas, as Prime Minister Churchill has warned they may do, it will be for effect on the morale of their enemies. There is no reason to believe Germany would be able to hold any advantage in gas warfare; since Mr.
Churchill's warning, it would not even hold the advantage of surprise.

The apparent reason for talking about gas is to lay the blame on Germany in advance if it is used. Presumably, Mr. Churchill, himself, was convinced that it is going to be used, or he wouldn't have mentioned it. Like aerial bombing, which was the terrible unknown that was going to win the war for Germany—but didn't—gas probably is more useful as a potential weapon than it will be in actual use, which quickly would disclose limitations that cannot readily be foreseen.

Irrelevant Thought

BEGINNING of gasoline rationing in eastern states suggests one wholly irrelevant thought: What will become of the chronic millionsaire?

He was the fellow who always got sensational mileage on each gallon of gas. When the ordinary owner of a Humbletrap 4 thought he was lucky to hit an average of 14 1/2, the liar could get 23 miles to the gallon in his Fumer, which also had eight cylinders, weighed 200 more pounds, was carrying two more adult passengers, was one year older and had been driven an average of 10 miles faster.

No Resistance to the Policy

A FEW blunders like the ridiculous restriction on two-point suits have raised questions, but even skeptics must be marveling at the public's easy acceptance of the switchover to wartime economy. In such rapid order that some of them were missed in the confusion, restrictions have been showered down on virtually every common activity of the American people. In less than six months the entire complexion of life has been changed—and it is universally realized that in six more months the change will be infinitely greater than it is now.

Yet, there have been few complaints.
Measures are being accepted that would have been considered too drastic to speak of as possibilities when the United States still was fighting undeclared war, before Pearl Harbor.
There is a prevailing attitude of being willing to do anything under the sun to help the war effort—an attitude of determination about sparing nothing to assure success. Realizing that they have not even begun to give up things yet, Americans are cheerfully resolved that if and when the time comes, they will give up whatever is asked of them. A major triumph has been scored on the morale front—without fanfare.

Inconclusive News from China

A HANDICAP the Chinese share with the Russians is the size of their country and population. They are remote from one another—and even more remote to the outside world, now trying to understand them better.

During all the years of Japan's struggle to break Chinese military resistance and control that stubborn, amorphous country, the news of the fighting has been inconclusive. The Japanese won all the engagements, yet could not terminate the war. Despite the more serious blows they have been able to give China due to spread of the war into the Burma sector, the news still is inconclusive.

The Japanese are still fighting against distances and numbers that are calculated to give serious doubts to better military organizations than their own. They have cut off the Burma road, which is serious. They are in position to strike at the Chinese state that has been created in the interior, and that is serious. But they still are trying to do the same thing they had failed to do in five years, and that is most serious of all—for the Japanese. They have won great victories at Singapore, Java, the Philippines and Pearl Harbor. But they have won no great victory against China.

NOT WHAT HE WANTED
Propagandist Goebbels asked the German people to pray for Hitler on his birthday. But we imagine that perhaps a good number of the prayers could never get a public recording.

News Behind the News

Talk of Possible Railroad Rationing Not Expected to Materialize.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Talk of possible railroad rationing, which has been going on for some time, is not expected to materialize.

Curtailed passenger facilities, elimination of luxury trains, abandonment of vacation rates and excursion fares, among some methods being discussed.

No person who wants to see this war win this war will raise his voice in question of this, or any other step which is needed, but some government officials seem to be discussing the subject without offering a solution. Certainly rationing should be accompanied by a showing of need in order to gain public cooperation.

But the rationing of American railroads is not a shortage of either locomotives or cars. The country is not anywhere near capacity. Therefore, whatever may develop in the future, it is clear that rationing is not needed now.

Railroad Expansion
Only action taken by the railroads themselves so far has been the discontinuance of one-day excursions to New Jersey, according to the Pennsylvania and Reading railroads.
Other steps have been in the opposite direction.

Government officials in general have been paying public tribute to the need for the expansion job they have been doing.

The railroads now are planning to increase the volume of tank car traffic beyond the already achieved, incredible figure of 640,000 barrels a day, moving it to 800,000 barrels a day within a few weeks. Tank cars are being moved from short line haul.

But now that gasoline is rationed in the east and supplies are threatened elsewhere, people are depending more and more on railroad transportation. If this, too, is to be rationed, business will be further hampered. Also the civilian and soldier who can get a holiday will have to stay at home or camp, and chew his finger-nails or buy a pair of dice.

The dual attack on transportation is heading into the vacation period of the year, and the effect on morale, as well as on vacation business, may prove to be very important.

The human machine needs relaxation and diversion more in wartime than in peace. Government officials know this. They take rest periods.

Furthermore, the government is fearing inflation because so much money is in the hands of the people and cannot be spent. Holiday or vacation spending by the people is one of the best means of reducing the threat.

Will Power and Resourcefulness Seen as Needs in Solving Shipping Problem.

By WALTER LIPPMANN

MARSHAL FOCH, who was placed in command of the Allied forces in the dark days of 1918 when the Germans launched their last great offensive, has left us an account of the state of mind in which he took hold of his task.

I could not permit myself for a moment to admit that, powerfully reinforced as we were, we could allow ourselves to be beaten in 1918, when we were so relatively meagre, we had conquered in 1918.
With the means at our disposal, the question of stopping the enemy was in the last place a matter of will power on the part of the high command.

We are at a point today where America's capacity to influence effectively, perhaps decisively, this summer's fighting is in the first place a matter of will power on the part of the high command. Thanks to the notable achievements of the war department in organizing our ground and air forces, thanks to the nation's remarkable success in the struggle for production, we have a great and rapidly growing military power. But we are not yet exercising that power in anything like its full force, the reason being that we do not seem to have enough shipping to move enough of it across the seas to the places from which our enemies can be attacked. The reason we do not seem to have enough shipping is that public opinion and official thinking are about five months behind the times. We are still dealing with transportation as we dealt with production in the days of the OPM and before Pearl Harbor, that is to say without the will power to put aside business and politics and diplomacy as usual.

Production Battle Won
The struggle for war production was fought and won in December.
Because it was won, the seemingly impossible is being accomplished, the things which could not be done are being done, the program which not only our enemies but many among us here thought "fantastic" is going to be fulfilled, perhaps even surpassed.
This has been done by will power, for once the will to produce was set the ways to produce were found.

THE UNRELUCTANT DRAGON

What About Price Control? From News of Other Years

Will It Solve Our Inflation Problem? Nobody Knows.

(First of a Series of Four Articles)

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON, May 14.—To the thousand-and-one questions about which sweeping price control order which places retail ceilings on hundreds and hundreds of articles this month, the answer is simply "nobody knows."

Just exactly what will happen as a result of it? Who will be hurt? How can the seller of goods or service adversely affected beat the game and stay in business? Will it (with other measures already in effect and to follow) solve our inflation problem? Will it forestall or necessitate rationing? Will it necessitate subsidies? How is it going to be enforced? Will "black markets" become prevalent?

The answer still is "nobody knows."

IF THERE are two people in Washington who should know about the price control order, they are Leon Henderson, chubby chief of the Office of Price Administration, and President Roosevelt himself.

Yet the OPA calls the sweeping price ceiling order merely the correction in the wall against inflation and President Roosevelt warned the nation in his fireside chat that he would use his executive powers to the fullest to carry out the policy laid down. Both these pronouncements indicate control and direction—deciding where ships shall be used and what shall be carried and where it is no more a matter for commercial ship operators than is allocating tanks or bombers a matter for the managers of industrial plants.

There should be no demagoguery about this, no impugning of any one's motives, no reflection on any one's actions. But it must be said on the basis of common sense experience that it requires outsiders—competent outsiders—to direct the full conversion of an industry from peace to war. For the outsider sees the problem freshly, and is not blinded by the habits of his work in time of peace.

It is not enough, to build ships, it is not enough to concentrate ships. It is also necessary to protect them. On this point, which is obviously a delicate and difficult one to discuss, it is, I believe, our duty to ask ourselves whether there is not a remaining peace-time mentality somewhere which makes the war against the submarine less effective than it could be.

The peace-time mentality would manifest itself in a certain rivalry, a certain stand-offishness, a certain lack of team work by the navy and army. It would manifest itself in an excessive desire for perfection, as, for example, in requiring ships that are so good they can not be built quickly enough, in not using makeshifts that men will resort to, and manage to make work, if they feel sufficiently desperately urgent about it.

Going To Seed
By The Associated Press
AMARILLO, Tex.—Since the U. S. department of agriculture has recommended the reseeding of many areas of the Great Plains in native grasses, the harvesting of grass seed has become a major enterprise on many farms and ranches.

B. F. Kiltz of the soil conservation service estimated that last fall the soil conservation service alone harvested 570,000 pounds. Many seed houses also collected large quantities.

Remarkable Fact

Military Ability Has Strange History of Bobbing Up in Young Men from the Right Families.

By DAMON RUNYON

IT IS interesting to note that in this country, wealth and social and political position, frequently beget superior military intelligence ability.

I am sure this is true because I find in all our wars, except perhaps the Revolution, many of our commissioned officers—side of the limited number from West Point—come from the rich and socially and politically prominent families of our various communities. Hence, the sons of these families must possess of the attributes I mention. I find that commissions would not be bestowed on any other reason, I mean for any other reason than superior military intelligence, and I assume that the lives of our fighting men would be delegated to the responsibility of lacking in those attributes.

It is a curious thing, too, that this military intelligence and ability should in many cases be the sole mental capital of the offspring of wealth and position. For instance, you, reader, probably know young gentlemen of first families of your community who all lives were deemed useless, or dopes, until war came along, and who have suddenly acquired commissions.

OBVIOUSLY, then, the talents of these young men lay in military talents where, of course, in the absence of war you could harbor no suspicion. The talents must be there else the government would not have taken them on, would it? I mean the government would not have deliberately picked moles to lead unless it had knowledge of the military and discretion of the moles, would it?

You may be somewhat puzzled as to the government suddenly discerned the talents of the young gentlemen since it had been completely hidden from their lifetimes neighbors, our puzzlement being perhaps all greater in cases where the commissions have been bestowed without previous military experience or study.

You may wonder, if you reside on the west side of the tracks, why your own son, always outstripped that dunced sire by rich and socially or politically powerful old Jorkola, in school and otherwise, not so much than high private in the rear rank while Jerry grabbed a lieutenantcy or maybe a captaincy. But you must remember that the government, like providence, moves in mysterious ways its wonders to perform and this sudden nuzzle out of military ability has been characteristic of it for 130 years, which is the period since war of 1812. You must read up on that some day and learn how we first began stringing military honors around in a fashion seems to have prevailed ever since.

IT IS quite true that many young men of families living over against the railroad have also received commissions in this I am quite sure, however, that the number of them so honored without previous experience or preparation is infinitesimally small as compared to those from the right side of the track commissioned under similar circumstances without experience, so I was forced to conclusions.

I conclude that it reflects the advantage being born into families of wealth and social and political position and thereby automatically inheriting the most amazing military men. It may be useless in time of peace, but comes in handy when a war pops up. I advise all young men who expect to be anywhere in the future to take note of this.

The world may beat a path to their doors, but no matter where the doorways may be, if they invent a better mousetrap than the rat, but when it comes to getting a commission in the military establishment during a war there is nothing like having big people your parents.

In Napoleon's time in France, a high commission was supposed to be in every soldier's knapsack. In this country, commissions were spring mainly from the right side.

POPPY SALE TOTAL IS INCREASED HERE

Proceeds To Be Used for Soldiers of Both World Wars.

Funds collected in the annual poppy sale Saturday of the auxiliary to Bird-McGinnis Post No. 152, American Legion, will be used in the work the Legion and auxiliary are doing for disabled veterans of World War I and the present conflict, for needy families of men in service and for families of veterans.

"This year the poppy not only honors and aids the men who defended America 24 years ago and their families, but also those defending America today and their families," Mrs. W. E. Orest, poppy day chairman, said.

Four thousand poppies will be offered for sale this year, the largest number ever offered for a poppy sale in Marion. They were made by disabled veterans at Sandusky during the winter and spring months.

More than 13,000,000 of the flowers have been made by veterans throughout the country, the largest number since the observance of poppy day was begun 20 years ago. Orders for the poppies from auxiliaries everywhere have been increased this year in anticipation of greatly increased demand for the flowers of patriotic remembrance, according to the chairman.

Mrs. Orest will give a 15-minute talk on "The Meaning of Poppy Day" tonight at 8:45 over Station WMRN.

what is America Fighting For?

Equal Opportunity for ALL!

(One of the Essentials of a Democracy)

Deep in the breast of every American boy flames the light of hope and ambition. Equal opportunity to "make his mark" is one of the many American principles our country will ever fight to protect.

American fathers have shown their own that—in our country—individual initiative has brought success time and again. Throughout our country's history, the thousands of great Americans, who, by their own efforts, raised themselves high in America's state, professional and business life repeatedly illustrate this truth. In America—as nowhere else—every boy, rich or poor, has that cherished privilege of making his life worth while in the field of endeavor he chooses!

Equal opportunity for all... the American ideal of free enterprise... the American way of life! Those things have made America great. These principles will see America through to Victory!

New York Man Suggests Solution To Problem of Gifts for Soldiers

—(Wide World)—
Walter J. Seely, a New York City resident, has found a perplexing problem in the gift-giving to soldiers in the armed forces, and he has suggested a solution.

Seely's idea is to have a government issue coupons, similar to the ones now issued for food, which would be redeemable in any store for a gift of equal value. The coupons would be given to the soldier's family or to the soldier himself, and he could make his selection from the gifts.

The coupons could be used in any store, and the soldier could select the gift of his choice. This would solve the problem of the soldier's family not knowing what to buy, and it would also solve the problem of the soldier's family not being able to afford the gifts.

PREDICT WIDER GAS RATIONING

Extension of Program Over Entire U. S. After July 1 Forecast.

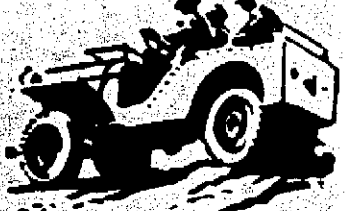

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, May 14—National defense in congressional circles today and some informed observers here were strong advocates of the rationing of gasoline after July 1.

At least easterners formed an opinion around registration plates for the third day to observe gasoline rationing (R-V) in the United States. (R-V) is the rationing of gasoline to limit the use of gasoline in transportation systems.

It was stated that government officials are planning the movement of all gasoline by rail and

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

A "Jeep" costs the army $500. Soldiers call them "Four-by-Fours," but the official name is reconnaissance car. "Jeeps" can maintain a speed of 45 miles an hour, transport a half ton of supplies or six men.

We need thousands of these practical little cars. You and 47 of your neighbors buying a $18.75 War Bond can buy one jeep. Do it today, for the army needs thousands of them. Top the quota in your county and buy War Bonds every pay day.

water would be reflected in the rationing of gasoline on a nationwide basis, a development Senator Downey (D-Calif.) predicted would come in any event.

Downey said he looked for a continued decline in gasoline and fuel oil reserves on the eastern seaboard, despite efforts to patch together a pipeline which might be capable of delivering 100,000 barrels of oil daily from Texas fields.

Do This Every Morning For 30 Days
A pinch of Kruschen salts taken every morning in a glass of water will rouse the flow of liver bile. Kruschen taken this way relieves such symptoms as indigestion, heartburn, flatulence, constipation, and other ailments of the digestive system.

There is plenty of oil and gasoline in Texas, California, and other producing states, but Chairman Maloney (D-Conn.) of a committee that investigated the threatened eastern oil shortage last fall said he saw no hope for an improvement in transportation facilities within the next few months.

Special to The Star
MARIETTA, May 14—There is no sugar for tea and coffee for the 300 inmates of the Ohio reformatory for women here because of the patriotism of the inmates, Mrs. Marguerite Reilly, superintendent, stated today.

It was shortly after the attack on Pearl Harbor that the inmates were called together by Mrs. Reilly to see what they wished to do to aid the war effort. A shortage of sugar was then being discussed and the inmates voted to not use sugar in their coffee and tea and to cut down on its consumption otherwise.

As a result the consumption of sugar has been cut 30 per cent and there is sufficient sugar on hand at the reformatory to last for several months under the government rationing system.

Inmates have otherwise shown their patriotic inclinations by wishing to perform any task that will aid the war program. They are especially interested in student nursing which training is provided by working in the reformatory hospital, an honor job. Only about 10 inmates were used in the hospital prior to the war but more are being accommodated that they might receive training with which to serve the country when they are paroled.

Marion Hawks Dealt Second Straight Loss in Ohio State Semi-Pro Loop

Galion Nine Collects 16 Safeties for 15-9 Win As Local Pitchers Fold Up.

Blasting three pitchers for 16 safeties including four for extra bases, the Galion Jaycees experienced little difficulty in disposing of the second team, Marion's baseball Hawks by a score of 15-9 last night at Halsey park in Galion in an abbreviated Ohio State semi-pro loop contest. The game was called because of darkness after 5 1/2 innings of play.

The winners registered eight runs on six hits in the bottom half of the first after holding the locals scoreless. Marion starting moundman, Bill Weaver of Wyandot, issued three straight passes after giving up a single to Manager Jimmy Lymper, the ex-University of Illinois third baseman who scored on a wild pitch.

With two outs and the bases loaded, Manager Ray Roseberry called Darrell Roseberry to the mound from left field. He allowed Lamb, who gained the evening's top batting honors with four hits in four trips to the plate, a ground ball single through the box, scoring Goldsmith and advancing Earlley to third. Nelson was safe at first on a fielders' choice, but forced Earlley at home for the second out. Ernest counted to right field to place Lamb and Nelson. Pitcher Hughes drove one to the same spot, scoring Ernest. Center fielder George Hedge permitted Lymper's short fly to drop safe, scoring Hughes. Lymper went to second on the throw and stole third base. Shaffer drove a hot grounder through shortstop for a clean single, bringing in Lymper from third. Earlley belted a long fly to Hedge, who caught the ball on the dead run in deep center field.

Big Second Inning. The Hawks belted six hits in their half of the second to score seven runs and come up one run shy of the Galion initial inning showing. Hilton started the rally with a triple to right field after Hedge had been called out on strikes. John Paulus belted the second pitch to left field for the Hawks' second triple. Hilton, scoring. Shortstop Don Cook made it three in a row with another belt to right field to score Paulus. Joe Paulus, who had entered the lineup at third base late in the first inning when a pair of shifts put Darrell Roseberry on the mound, drew a pass. Loper fanned on three slow pitches and Max Roseberry hit a ground single along the third base line, scoring Cook and Joe Paulus. Walters and Darrell Roseberry each received passes and Hedge tagged one of relief hurler Weaver's deliveries for a two-run single to left center. Hilton got his second hit of the inning, a sharp grounder between first and second and John Paulus walked. Cook fanned, leaving Hilton and Paulus stranded on first and second.

Darrell Roseberry faced only four batters in the Galion half of the second, giving up a single to Lamb and fanning Goldsmith. Nelson and Ernest on 14 pitches. Marion failed to hit safely in the top half of the third.

Roseberry Relieved. Galion pasted Roseberry and Joe Paulus for eight hits in scoring seven runs in its half of the third. Weaver opened the spurge by popping up to Loper at first. Lymper reached second on a bad throw to first by Cook. McClurg followed with a single and Shaffer placed both with a mighty three-base blow to left field. Goldsmith doubled to center field, scoring Earlley. Goldsmith came in on a passed ball. With the bases clear Lamb drove a short fly to center field, Hedge failing to make an attempt to catch the ball. Nelson slammed a three-bagger to right field and scored on Lymper's single through the box. McClurg was out on a pop-up to Joe Paulus to retire the side.

Marion scored a pair of runs in the fifth when Max Roseberry doubled Cook and Joe Paulus home. Cook had got on base on one of the eight passes issued by the two Galion moundmen and Paulus had singled to left. Next Sunday the Hawks are

O.P.A. Ruling Hits Sports
Tobin, Ruth Marks Alike
Florida League Dissolved

By LOREN W. TIBBALS
Marion Star Sports Editor

Confirmation by the office of price administration of a previous ruling by state rationing directors that school buses could not be used for the transportation of athletic teams, increased the strong feeling that demands for more rigid rationing schedules, as well as a possible gasoline shortage, will keep Ohio's high school athletic teams at home next year.

Speaking on the ruling, State Athletic Commissioner H. H. Townsend, said recently that the new ruling would cut deeply into competitive sports programs. He said, "A good many schools have dropped night football games and a large number of country schools already have discontinued basketball for the duration."

Athletic directors are given one satisfaction, however. Present school bus tires may be used to convey athletic teams and new tires can be obtained when the old ones are worn out. Teams are not permitted to ride on the new rubber, the office of price administration has ruled.

Remember Ruth?

The phenomenal three home-run barrage instituted by pitcher Jim Tobin, a five-year big league star, yesterday against the Chicago Cubs parallels the record of George Herman "Babe" Ruth, baseball's greatest swat king whose record of 60 home runs in one season still stands although attacked severely by Jimmy Foxx of the Boston Red Sox and Hank Greenberg, formerly of Detroit's Tigers but now of the nation's armed forces. Before being re-routed to the New York Yankees outfield the Great Bambino had performed miraculous feats as a

BRAVES' HURLER BREAKS OLD RECORD

Jim Tobin of the Braves is congratulated by his teammates after he belted his third consecutive home run in a game against the Cubs in Boston. During the past 42 years of big league baseball, only the late Lou Gehrig of the Yankees and Jimmy Foxx of the Red Sox have bettered this mark of Tobin, who also pitched a five-hit game against the Cubs while piling up the home run mark.

OLD TIMERS REMEMBER CONN'S FATHER-IN-LAW

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK — Jimmy Smith, the fighting father-in-law of fighter Billy Conn, earned himself a lasting reputation in the major leagues as a fearless scrapper in the two-listed era of the game.

He was a good enough infielder that the Pittsburgh Pirates picked him as the successor to the immortal Honus Wagner at shortstop in 1916, but he hurt his ankle in the first game of the season. Now the fates have brought him a different fame.

Old-timers are full of stories about his escapades.

1921 Escapade Recalled. There was the time when he was with the Phils. One night he went to Camden, N. J., to see Roy Steele, a great basketball player of the day.

Smith was in such a hurry to catch the 11:30 ferry in order to beat the training cutoff that he hopped onto the boat without a ticket. He became involved in a bloody battle with several dock policemen and ended up in jail with six stitches in his head.

Teammates hailed him out without telling Manager Kize Wilhelm and the following afternoon Smith played second base.

Most of Smith's encounters started as innocently as that. He had, and still has, a quick temper but in his playing days he never drank nor smoked. He made a fetish of being in condition and was an outstanding all-around athlete.

He is 47 years old now, but looks 30 and for the last week or two worked out with the Pirates at Pittsburgh along with his son, Tommy, who has baseball aspirations and shows promise. Smith was a caddy in his youth and now plays golf in the 70's.

Promoter Fishbaugh has tried for over a month to bring the Farmer here but each time some other promoter in one of the central states has come up with an earlier contract. Tonight is Fishbaugh's turn and a night of really great mat entertainment for the customers.

Up to last week Billings was undefeated on the local pad. The famed Swedish Angel, whose resemblance can only be compared with that of the Neanderthal man, was his nemesis, winning in two consecutive falls. It was the un-

They assume any one of shapes, because at another almost every American league has shown an interest in both Clift and McQuinn. But the most likely tie-ups now would be with Washington, Detroit or Chicago. All three of these clubs could use Clift to advantage. The market on McQuinn has cooled off, but some National league clubs, notably the Boston Braves, could use him and waivers no longer seem an obstacle to inter-league trading.

The Philadelphia Athletics captured their fifth straight victory by a 10-9 count from the Browns and ousted Washington from fifth place in the American league.

The Chicago White Sox set down the Boston Red Sox, 2-1, in ten innings for their third victory in four games. Myril Hoag singled across the winning tally.

The Detroit Tigers continued a bloodthirsty third, just a game and a half from the lead, by whipping Washington, 6-2, on the three-hit hurling of Hal Newhouse. The Senators' only scoring came on a two-run homer by Bob Estalella. The victim of the Tigers was Buck Newsom.

Veteran Jim Tobin Hits and Pitches Boston to 6-5 Win Over Cubs.

Jim Tobin, veteran 28-year-old right-hander, set a new major league home-run stugging record for pitchers yesterday by blasting three consecutive circuit drives for a total of four runs while hurling the Boston Braves to a 6-5 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Tobin, who lost three of his seven previous starts because his mates were unable to hit behind him, won his own game in the eighth by cracking his third homer after Paul Waner had singled Jim, a right-handed hitter, opened the fifth and seventh frames by clearing the left field fence.

He missed a homer by inches his first time up in the third inning when Bill Nicholson backed up against the right field barrier for his smash.

While duplicating a feat that, as far as the record books reveals, was performed only by Pitcher Guy Hecker for the Louisville American Association club back in 1886, Tobin ran up a total of four homers in his last five turns at bat.

He poled his second of the season as a pinch hitter against the Cubs Tuesday.

All but one of the Braves' runs came on homers. Ernie Lombardi cracked a four-bagger in the fourth inning and Eddie Miller cleared the center field wall in the seventh.

As a result of yesterday's prodigious clubbing, Tobin, rated as Casey Stengel's ace mound-man, became that manager's top hitter with an average of .407 for his 27 times at bat.

The Braves' knuckle baller needs only one more home run to tie the National League record of six for a pitcher during a season, a mark held by Hal Schumacher of the Giants.

Tobin also took particular pains with his pitching chores yesterday. He limited the Cubs to five hits, three passes and two earned runs.

The victory was Tobin's fifth of the season, against three defeats. He has flipped 49 scoreless innings this campaign, and only 17 earned runs have been scored off him in the course of 26 frames. This pitching is about as tight as any in either circuit.

Tobin, known as "Old Tom" to his mates, is in his third season with the Braves, who obtained him from Pittsburgh after the 1939 season. He came up to Pittsburgh before the '37 campaign from Oakland, where he played two seasons.

Cincinnati's Reds, endeavoring to prove that they are still a big league ball club, try their wares on the New York Giants today, after being reminded that they can't hit.

Elmer Riddle, 1941 phenomenon of the National league who hasn't won a game yet this year, and either Bob Carpenter or Hal Schumacher of New York are the pitchers.

Curt Davis, the old righthander of the Brooklyn Dodgers, pitched a two-hit spectacle to turn back the Cincinnati Reds, 4-0. The Dodgers took advantage of John Vander Meer's wildness to provide an early lead.

But the Pittsburgh Pirates, who open a three-game series at Brooklyn today, remained 2½ games in the rear by downing the New York Giants, 3-1. Manager Frank Frisch of Pittsburgh was tossed out of the game by an umpire for the third time in a month after he protested a decision at the plate.

The St. Louis Cardinals, who had been held to two runs in three games, unleashed a 15-hit assault to beat the Phils, 9-1, with old Lou Warneke pitching five-hit ball.

started with Chicago in the federal league in 1915. He went to Baltimore the same year and later played with Pittsburgh, New York, Cincinnati and Philadelphia in the National league.

He never weighed more than 155 in those days and is only ten pounds heavier now, a dapper dresser with curly, sandy hair. He feared no one, or no numbers.

He was one of the leaders of the battling Cincinnati Reds who bagged the world championship in 1919. That summer the Reds and Giants were involved in a ding-dong pennant struggle and one of their games ended in a riot at the Polo Grounds after Dolph Luque, pitching for the Reds, heard Rube Benton, Witnesses say Smith was the individual winner in the free for all.

Once Challenged D'yers At another time he tried to have challenged the entire Brooklyn team without a Dodger leaving the bench.

Smith was always a great admirer of John McGraw and once kicked a patron out of his saloon in Pittsburgh because of some disparaging remarks about the Little Napoleon of the Giants.

Smith used to defend Conn, too, when the young Irish boxer was just getting started and before he started dating Smith's attractive daughter, Mary Louise.

Even after the two were married and Conn and Smith carried their verbal sparring into public, Smith remained friendly with Conn's family. He attended funeral of Billy's mother at Atlantic City.

But that seems a long time ago, now.

Human Beings with Owl Eyes May Be Big Help in War

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Wide World Science Editor.

ROCHESTER, Minn., May 14.—Owl eyes have been discovered in human beings—eyes which by a freak of nature are structurally like an owl's, blinded by light but able to see in the dark.

There may be military possibilities, such as spotting planes or submarines, for the human owl eyes can see a black cat at night in 10 to 20 times less light than the very best normal eyes.

The discovery is reported to the American Physiological Society by Dr. Charles Sheard and Dr. H. L. Bair of the Mayo Foundation and the Mayo Clinic.

The peculiar human eyes lack the type of nerve endings of sight which see bright light and colors. They possess only the nerve mechanisms which see dim light. In that respect they are almost the same as owl's eyes. To them everything is black or gray, and clear only when the light is dim.

The bright light and color-seeing nerves organs are called cones; the dim-seeing ones rods. The owl-eyed humans have rods which are just as sensitive as the owl's rods.

A normal person at night is using his rods when he glimpses out of the corner of his eye things which vanish when he looks directly at them. The owl-eyed persons have this ability, too, and in higher degree. But their great superiority comes in a different use of the night-seeing rods, a use which normal eyes can not imitate.

The human owls can look directly at the object which the rest of us can glimpse only from the corner of an eye. They can study this object directly, until they even discern some of its details. And when they do this they can see the object many times better than the best of other human eyes.

The sight of two of these persons has been measured at the Mayo Foundation. One saw objects 10 times dimmer than could be seen by the best aviator's eye, and the other 16 times dimmer. It is believed that this night-seeing superiority may go as high as 30-fold.

The peculiar eye condition is known as achromatopsia, or total inability to see colors. There are two causes—one, heredity which omits the retinal nerve mechanism of color; the other degeneration of those nerves (the cones) early in life.

These people, to see in daytime, wear dark glasses or stay in shaded places. The trouble tends to run in families, and if possessors of owl eyes can serve in military work, it is possible that many may be found.

Dinner Meeting Held by Trainmen's Wives

Places were marked for 60 members and guests at a 6 o'clock dinner which preceded a meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to the B. of R. T. Pride of 55, Lodge No. 79, Tuesday night. Guests included 16 members of Huntington Lodge No. 227.

A May day theme was carried out in the dinner appointments. The centerpiece was a Maypole wound with pink and white ribbon and guest favors were packages of lilies of the valley. Complimenting the decorative theme were spring flowers. Music for the dinner hour included "Home Sweet Home" and "Old Black Joe," played on bottles partially filled with water by Willis Parker, and accordion numbers by Ronald Strawver. The Silverstone quartet, Mrs. Marabelle Flach, Mrs. Bessie Carpenter, Mrs. Merle Parr and Mrs. Edna Ginder, sang "Oh, Land of Ours" and "Love Divine."

Mrs. Mae Miller, president of the guest lodge, and Mrs. Edith Cull, acting past president of the lodge, were seated at the presdent's station during the meeting. Next meeting Mar. 28. Mrs. Ruth Plant were completed for a memorial service to be held at the award.

Richmond agrees it will take 100 million EXTRA tons of coal this year to provide power for war industry and transportation. Coal must be moved in a steady, non-stop stream if needs of homes and war are to be met.

It means time spent NOT be filled as usual in late summer or fall—or the problem of supply will surely become acute. It means your winter fuel should be ordered and stored NOW while a surplus over war needs exists.

Do this and you add a serious task. You benefit from a minimum price, the best of service, a choice of the most, highest value coal you prefer. So this week, order YOUR coal bin for the duration!

What About

A & P LOW PRICES

now that everybody is talking about

CEILING PRICES?

- Now, and after May 18th (when ceiling prices become effective), all A&P Super Markets and A&P Food Stores will continue to give you real low prices on fine foods every day, just as they have been doing.
- The new "ceiling price" regulation will not alter in any way A&P's low price policy. This means that every day at A&P you will continue to get the best foods the markets afford at our lowest possible prices.
- And here is another important fact to remember, FOOD PRICES WILL NOT BE IDENTICAL IN ALL FOOD STORES on and after May 18th. Prices will continue to differ in food stores on the same articles—just as they have heretofore.

OUR CUSTOMERS SAVE MONEY

A&P, during the last eight years, has made big reductions in its operating costs. These savings have been passed along to our customers, so that today they have 9c more of every food dollar to spend than they did in 1933.

It is A&P's policy to continue to conduct its business as economically as possible, thus to give to you the utmost for every food dollar you spend at A&P Stores.

OMAR 800 BREAD

Entertained
at Mark Street School
The parents visited the rooms where the teachers served as hostesses and decorated the walls with examples of the work of the pupils, featuring the art and writing. Of particular interest was a large ship, made by sixth grade pupils, with sails fashioned by examples of writing done by the pupils.

Pupils of the two first grades, taught by Mrs. George Nemi and Miss Goldus Bolander, entertained with a puppet show and rhythm band selections, and second grade pupils presented songs from the book, "Tuning Up." These grades are taught by Miss Florence Busch and Miss Ruth Emery. Songs from "Rhymes and Rhythms" and patriotic numbers were contributed by the third grades taught by Mrs. Lucretia Taylor and Miss Jeanette Hamilton, and the fourth and fifth grade pupils sang songs from books titled "Songs From Many Lands" and "Blending Voices." Miss Lois Hall, fourth grade teacher, directed the music by the third, fourth and fifth grades. Miss Helena Hart is teacher of the fifth grade. The sixth grade, taught by Miss Loretta Gilmore, sang from "Tunes and Harmonies." Displays included the work of boys of the fourth and fifth grades in charge of Harold Burrell, director of boys' activities. Miss Philomena Gregg is principal of the school.

Pharmacists and Dentists

JUST AS the present emergency is putting a tax upon the supply of dentists and pharmacists, it is also putting a tax upon the supply of dentists and pharmacists.

Dr. Harry B. Pines, secretary of the American Dental Association, has said: "Last year's graduating class from the dental schools was 1,662—the smallest in three decades. In 1941, only 1,320 persons in the United States were dentists. The number of dentists is still decreasing."

For some time I have known that dentists are in short supply. I have known that dentists are in short supply. I have known that dentists are in short supply.

The army, I am interested to note, is furnishing an intensive course in order to train pharmacists. These courses are being given at 14 general army hospitals and last for a period of 80 days or 12 weeks. Previous civilian occupations are not very important factors in determining who shall be selected to take the preliminary technical course. Consequently, army men having all types of experience are taking these courses.

The pharmacy course seems to me to be quite complete in spite of the short time required to give it. It consists in a course in pharmacy mathematics which reviews the fundamentals of arithmetic, the metric and apothecary systems of weights and measures, a study of percentages and percentage solutions, calculation of dosage and so forth.

Another subject is Materia Medica, or the action of drugs and other preparations. Finally, there is a course in pharmacy administration which includes the filling and filing of prescriptions, conduct in the pharmacy and so forth.

Some pharmacists have expressed a fear that after the war is over the people taking these courses will infringe upon their professional prerogative, but I cannot feel that this is a very pressing danger.

Pitfalls of Love

By ADLE GARRISON

Madge recalls Jack's Chivalry in Youth and Suspends Some-thing Sidetracked Letters to Katharine

THERE WAS a note in Jack's letter, a voice when I read it, that I had never heard before. It was not only the long dreary stretch of time during an era of his family's friends had heard it, but it was the years before that after he returned, when I had seen in constantly appeared at my feet. It was a shadowy figure of a man, a shadowy figure of a man, a shadowy figure of a man.

Chivalrous in Youth But I was the old Jack of my youth, and I was speaking not the man who was chivalrous and generous to a fault, especially to the women of his family.

Sudden Fear Fear suddenly came, it was the music of my throat. There was a voice which made me shiver, it was the voice of the past.

Uncerupous the remorseless, this woman had once told Katharine's faith to the utmost, in writing her a letter in which she demanded that Katharine write to Jack and tell him that she wished to dissolve their marriage.

She had told Katharine in her letter that she wished to dissolve their marriage.

Answer: Hydrochloric acid may be taken for quite a long time without any permanent damage. It should be taken in the dilute form. The stomach naturally secretes hydrochloric acid so the body constantly neutralizes certain amounts of it.

letter, that Jack loved her (Ruth), but was too much-minded to ask his wife to leave him, therefore she was doing the job for him, but without his knowledge. And she had toward the point that Jack must be or know she had written to Katharine.

Katharine had ignored the letter, she was too much-minded to ask his wife to leave him, therefore she was doing the job for him, but without his knowledge. And she had toward the point that Jack must be or know she had written to Katharine.

The bewilderment was leaving his face, and in its stead was black, and in some one I hoped, that the description of the man, that the description of the man, that the description of the man.
